

Together They Did

Thursday, February 11, 2010

From left are campaign committee members: Laura Maniago, Jim Wood, Kim Paton (Committee Chair), Janet Burton, Lindsey Manz, Shawna Ferguson, Cameron O'Keefe, and David Melillo

By Foundation Staff

London, Ont. – For the second year in a row, the “Together We Can” Employee Giving Campaign encouraged a collaborative approach and experienced fantastic results, raising an incredible $178,434 for Children’s Health Foundation, London Health Sciences Foundation and the United Way of London & Middlesex.

This year’s results were unveiled to the media and to the three charities at a news conference today.

Congratulations and a big thank you was given to the staff at London Health Sciences Centre for their generous contributions and to the employee committee for their outstanding effort by President and CEO Cliff Nordal. Joining Cliff in their praise for the staff were Children’s Health Foundation President and CEO Debbie Comuzzi, London Health Sciences Foundation President and CEO Dan Ross, and United Way of London and Middlesex CEO Andrew Lockie.

Nordal, noted that the joint effort managed, once again, to exceed pre-campaign totals by over 25 percent compared to two years ago when all three charities were running independent campaigns.